Products not subject to mandatory labelling due to lack of harmonised standards

Technical rules

Regulation (EG) Nr. 765/2008
Article 30
„General principles of CE labelling"

This manufacturer's declaration applies only to products without actuators.

There are currently no harmonised standards (EC Directive) available and applicable for products in the article group listed above Therefore, CE labelling and EC declaration of conformity are not possible for legal reasons

A CE marking or EC declaration of conformity shall only be affixed to products for which specific Community harmonisation legislation requires its affixing and shall not be affixed to any other product
